Arena Theatre

It was great to have the Arena Theatre working with students for a whole day this week. With years seven to nine, they apparently created an artificial intelligence which appeared by screen to the audience at the end of the school day. ‘Teresa Green’, a composite intelligence of the whole school, was able to answer all sorts of questions in a deep robotic voice, with an animated face but was Teresa, a bit good to be true? Well, I’m not telling. I didn’t get many photos, as like others, I was laughing too much.

The charming Teresa Green!

Middle Year’s Development Instrument. This week letters have been sent to parents and guardians of students from year 7-9 re participating The Middle Year’s Development survey. This survey will give great ideas about how schools can support the wellbeing and growth in the social skills of our students. If you have further questions just contact me.

The Inn of the Lost Travellers Year 7-9 students have been hard work for a few weeks on this year’s play ‘The Inn of the Lost Travellers’ and rehearsals for all will begin next week, from what I see so far it should be lots of fun. The School’s Play and Awards Night is on 8th of December: outside as usual at the school.

There has been so many great events including a very successful trip to the Orbost flower show, a 3-5 presentation of learning, and last week we had a very nice visit from the grade 3s and 4s from Orbost Primary School.
